RE: List Price Adjustment

Dear Valued Customer,

Bio-Rad Laboratories prides itself on providing the highest quality Life Science products in the industry. Despite worldwide increases in the cost of raw materials, we have limited our price increases for the last 2 years. Unfortunately, we can no longer continue to fully absorb these additional costs.

While we have endeavored to keep this price increase to a minimum, please be advised that Bio-Rad Laboratories will implement a 1% to 3% general price increase over the current list price of its Life Science products, effective for all orders placed on or after April 1st, 2022. Specific pricing will vary by product, and details can be found on your attached pricelist.

The last date for invoicing shipments on existing orders at current price levels is March 31st, 2022. All new orders processed for shipment after this date will be invoiced at the updated price schedule.

We appreciate your understanding as we make this change. We assure you that Bio-Rad Laboratories remains committed to you and our shared mission to advance scientific discovery and improve healthcare.

Thank you for your continued support.

Sincerely,
